Sprint Retrospective

What went well:

- System Architecture: The system design was well-organized with clear modular separation, making it easier to assign development tasks.
- Initial Mock-up Design: The mock-ups effectively conveyed user flow and UI components, helping align design and development teams.

What could be improved:

- Team Work: Better time management and clearer task delegation could have improved efficiency during sprint cycles.

What need to be done:

- Team Work: Establish more structured stand-up meetings
- In Sprint 3, we need to: build the frontend UI and connect it to APIs, deploy and optimize the database, implement OTP/SMS authentication, and maintain daily team syncs while updating documentation.
